

FEATURED

Ransomware Incidents

Blue-Collar Workers

Cybersecurity

Manufacturing Job Growth

Ransomware Hits Aerospace and Automotive Supplier

Over the last two years, ransomware outbreaks have held companies, municipalities, hospitals and organizations of all kinds hostage. One recent coordinated attack brought 22 separate communities to a full digital stand-still and the average number of days a ransomware incident disrupts operations is climbing. Experts estimate that the average attack now lasts 16.2 days – up from 12.1 days in the third quarter of 2019.

Read more

Tweet

How To Build a Culture That Wins Blue-Collar Loyalty

What's more effective than pay to retain blue-collar workers? Culture. Read what employers can do to reduce turnover & boost productivity.

Read more

Tweet

Cybersecurity in a Connected World

While IoT technology brings new possibilities for manufacturers, increasing connectivity calls for a vigilant approach to cybersecurity.

Read more

Tweet

Manufacturing Among Top 20 Most Rugged Jobs in America

Industrial workers encounter the most extreme physical and environmental demands, but also have high opportunity for job growth.

Read more

Tweet

NEWS

February 2020 Manufacturing ISM®Report On Business®

Economic activity in the manufacturing sector grew in February, and the overall economy grew for the 130th consecutive month.

Read more

Tweet

International Trade in Mexico

Foley & Lardner surveyed U.S.-based executives in the manufacturing, auto, and tech sectors on their interest in doing business in Mexico.

Read more

Tweet

Magazine Issue December 2019

