

FEATURED

Current Issue

- Global Lighthouse Network Initiative
- Pittsburgh Airport: Neighborhood 91
- North Carolina: Digital Inclusion
- Aerospace in Connecticut

Bold Manufacturing Initiatives Essential to Crisis

Life is now different. You know the devastation the spread of coronavirus has caused, not just to manufacturing and business in general, but to all of our daily lives. The current issue of Industry Today, planned months in advance has just been published. Consequently, the optimistic tone of features developed at the beginning of 2020 seems outdated only three months later as we went to publish. Still we remain optimistic.

Here is Why

Tweet

Looking Forward in Troubled Times

A digital transformation could help manufacturers move quickly when the coronavirus crisis lifts.

Read more

Tweet

$3B Economic Impact Predicted for Airport Production Campus

Neighborhood 91 will make an impact, one manufacturer at a time.

Read more

Tweet

New Support Program Seeks Broadband Success for All

BAND-NC seeks to help NC become the first state in the nation where every county has a digital inclusion plan by the end of 2022.

Read more

Tweet

Manufacturing Outlook Positive

Experts agree, the outlook for the global aerospace and defense industry looks positive for 2020 – Connecticut sees growth in the sector.

Read more

Tweet

NEWS

Humanity in the Time of Crisis

Five steps for service leaders during COVID-19.

Read more

Tweet

IT Solutions for Emergency Response Plans

The essential IT solutions needed in your emergency and disaster response plans.

Read more

Tweet

Contract Negotiations in the Midst of COVID-19

Common issues related to union contracts that expire on or about March 31, 2020 amidst the COVID-19 pandemic.

Read more

Tweet

3D Hubs Launches Manufacturing Fund to Fight COVID-19

Global online manufacturing platform, 3D Hubs, launches fund to manufacture critical parts for COVID-19 initiatives.

Read more

Tweet

Magazine Issue March 2020

