

Be in the Know Plastics & Glass News

Shaping the Future of the Vinyl Industry
Promoting the Benefits of the World's Most Versatile Plastic

DS Smith Sustainability Report 2024

DS Smith is a leading provider of sustainable fiber-based packaging worldwide, which is supported by recycling and papermaking operations.

Read more

Pulp Studio Announces Partnership with Bethany Fischer

Pulp Studio is pleased to announce a partnership with Bethany Fischer of Preservation & Protection Systems, Inc (PPSI).

Read more

HFT Selected for PQ's Augusta, Georgia Expansion

HFT will deliver the global silicates producer's new U.S. expansion project, targeting a production date of 2025.

Read more

Plastiphobia is Outdated, Says Symphony Environmental

Plastiphobia is outdated; modern technology already addresses past problems says Symphony Environmental Technologies.

Read more

Ancor Launches First-Ever 1L Stock Bottle Made From PCR

Ancor rigid packaging launches first-ever one-liter carbonated soft drink stock bottle made from 100% post consumer recycled material.

Read more

PureCycle Resin Used by Churchill Container

PureCycle and Churchill Container announced the successful manufacturing of a polypropylene cup made with 50% PureCycle resin.

Read more

The Problem with Plastic Packaging

This infographic stresses the importance of reducing our use of plastic packaging, particularly throughout the manufacturing industry.

See Infographic

Nanotubes Revolutionize Protective Film Technology

Graphene nanotubes revolutionize protective film technology: ultrathin, permanently conductive PSA.

Read more

The Numbers Are In: Plastic Film Isn't Going Anywhere

Plastic film has grown in usage but can easily become a source of revenue for various businesses.

Read more

