Like It Or Not, Tariffs Are Coming

The potential impact of Donald Trump's proposed import tariffs on manufacturing depend on several factors, including the scope of the tariffs, the industries involved, and the ability of manufacturers to adapt. But it's not a question of if, but when. According to the Tax Foundation, steep new taxes on trade are likely to include a 10% to 20% tariff on all imports, at least 60% on Chinese imports, and anywhere from 25% to 100% on Mexican imports.
