Manufacturer's To Trump: It's Time to Get to Work

National Association of Manufacturers President and CEO Jay Timmons released the following statement on the results of the 2024 election. "Manufacturers congratulate President-elect Donald Trump on his historic victory and strong performance across manufacturing intensive states. Every election represents a new beginning, providing a fresh opportunity to work with and for all Americans, no matter their political affiliation, and to recommit ourselves to the American experiment."
